Hirschfield First Thursdays Stonewalling Screening February 15th

Thank you to everyone who joined us for February's Hirschfield International Film Series screening of Stonewalling! In the film, Lynn is told she needs English classes, flight attendant school, and a go-getter attitude. She perseveres along this path of upward mobility until she finds out she's pregnant.

Congratulations Seniors!

Congratulations to the FMMC students who completed senior projects last month! We had 13 students put lots of hard work and effort into video essays, critical essays, documentary films, and narrative films.

Thank you to all of the students, staff, faculty, and friends who helped to make these projects possible, and thank you to all those who came to the presentations and screenings to support our seniors.
